SENATE

Comments or Action Items

Energy Legislation Last week, Senate Republicans filed the House energy bill, H.R. 4 - Securing America's Energy Future Act of 2001, as an amendment to the economic stimulus bill working its way through the Senate. However, legislation is now stalled in Congress because the House and Senate could not reach the point in which to begin negotiations. Senators Frank Murkowski (R/AK) and Larry Craig (R/ID), supporters of H.R. 4, have championed the House bill in the Senate. However, Minority Leader Trent Lott (R/R/MS) is reportedly reluctant to include energy issues in an economic stimulus package and Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D/SD) may want to attach economic stimulus legislation to FY 2002 appropriations language. The two chambers are expected to resume efforts to address differences over these issues after the Thanksgiving recess.

IV. ADMINISTRATION INITIATIVES

Strategic Petroleum Reserve Last week, the President directed Secretary Abrahams to increase the U.S. Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) to its 700-million barrel capacity. In doing so, an additional 108 million more barrels will be deposited in SPR. The Energy Secretary released the following statement on November 13:

Today marks a major step forward in our efforts to strengthen America's energy security. Americans count on the Strategic Petroleum Reserve as a readily available supply of emergency crude oil and the President's action today should increase consumer confidence that we are prepared to protect this nation from economic harm in the event of significant energy disruptions.
